

AIA CONTINUING EDUCATION: LIABILITY ASSUMED BY CONTRACT

Speaker Information:
Mark W. Jacobsen, P.S. AIA CES Provider

Mark Jacobsen is a Washington attorney who represents architects and engineers in all aspects of professional liability risk management, including:

- Contracts and contract negotiation
- Professional liability insurance coverage
- Licensure and regulatory compliance
- Design defect claim defense
- Project risk management and best practices
- Business law and planning, entity formation and support.

Event Information

The purpose of this course is to help architects avoid making uninsured commitments in their professional service contracts. This course will examine typical contractual liability exclusions in professional liability insurance policies, identify common contract terms that fall within the scope of those exclusions, and develop contract practices to avoid the exclusions.

The course is approved for 1 LU.

Learning Objectives

Participants will be able to evaluate the scope of the contractual liability exclusion in professional liability insurance policies using examples provided in the course.

Assess the insurability of agreements to extend the applicable statutes of limitations for claims arising from professional services.

Analyze defense and indemnification clauses to avoid uninsured contract commitments.

Avoid uninsurable contract commitments regarding architect directed construction means and methods.

November 16, 2016 1:20 p.m. – 2:20 p.m.

NAC Architecture, 1203 W. Riverside Ave.
Spokane, WA 99201

MARK W. JACOBSEN, P.S.

514 West 9th Street, Vancouver, WA 98660

360.737.1491 | mjacobson@mwj-law.com | www.mwj-law.com